

Terms & conditions

Version 2015-03-19

Delft Congress Support offers its services and access to its websites on condition of these Terms and Conditions. Wherever these Terms and Conditions do not apply the terms and conditions apply as noted in “FENIT voorwaarden” as they have been deposited on June 3, 2003 with number. 60/2003 at the “Arrondissementsrechtbank te Den Haag”. A copy of these terms (in Dutch) is available with us free of charge.

The latest version of the Terms and Conditions are available on this website. You are also obligated to follow the rules and regulations that are communicated via the websites of Delft Congress Support. Delft Congress Support has the right to change these Terms and Conditions at any time.

You will not hold Delft Congress Support accountable for action or inaction of third parties regarding the events of Delft Congress Support. You acknowledge that Delft Congress Support can not control the accuracy and validity of information provided by third parties via the websites of Delft Congress Support.

Unless noted otherwise these Terms and Conditions apply to all pages available on the websites of Delft Congress Support.

Participants are required to provide accurate information on all websites of Delft Congress Support when registering for an event. When there is a change in this information participants are required to update the information immediately. When the information is incorrect or when Delft Congress Support has reasonable doubts about the validity of the information Delft Congress Support can cancel your registration. When we cancel your registration we will only reimburse you for the costs of the registration when agreement has been reached with all involved parties.

Users of the websites of Delft Congress Support are required to keep all access codes and passwords provided by Delft Congress Support secret. When a password or access code has been compromised you are required to contact Delft Congress Support immediately.